

In the Specification

At pages 8-9, lines 18-23 and 1-4 respectively, please amend the paragraph as follows:

Off-hook status of the telephone device without an occupancy detection is another possible condition that can be uniquely indicated. Any other telephone device features and/or conditions can likewise be supervised based upon presence and appropriately indicated, for example activation of call-forwarding, immediate call transfer to voice mail, "do not disturb," and/or telephone device malfunction. Awareness, through indication, of the aforementioned conditions is beneficial to users because as an aid to discovery and correction of undesired telephone device conditions and configurations. Telephone device, and/or telephony system features are optionally indicated by distinct color, sound, data display, graphics, symbol and/or illumination patterns.